15. Anna Straka, born April 04, 1869; died December 26, 1943. She was the daughter of 30. Johann Straka and 31. Margaretha Dumas.

Notes for Simon Straus:

Simon was the youngest of 7 children, 2 sisters, Elizabeth and Margaret Straus. Margaret was a doctor in Germany. Four brothers, Joseph, John, Jacob, and Peter. Simons' father, Mathias was a linnen weaver and died when Simon was seven yars old. Simon was a coal miner in Germany and was burnt in a mine explosion. He and another miner were the only two who survived the explosion, as they were working close to the entrance of the mine. They were told if there was ever an explosion of fire in the mine they were to cover their face. This was the reason for the deformed ear and hand. Simon left Germany from Hanover on app. May 11, 1879 at the age of 20. He turned 21 on the ship, on the way over. He landed at the Port of New York, on June 9, 1879 aboard the ship "S.S. City of Chester." His permission to leave document was dated June 5, 1878, Port of entry unknown. His Declaration of Intention was filed in Marathon County WI on October 30, 1884. Phillip Strauss (oldest son of Simon) was the first Strauss, born in this country, to use (SS) on the end of his last name. All the Straus's born in Germany spelled their name with only one S on the end of their last name. Simon Straus did never return to Germany. He had intended to visit his family in 1935, but did not go due to the threat of war. The records in Germany pertaining to Simon Straus and his brothers and his sisters were lost in WW2.

Fact 1: June 09, 1879, Came to America

Notes for Anna Straka:

Anna Straka was born in Hayton, WI. She was baptized, confirmed and married at St. Gregory's in St. Nazianz as there was no Catholic church in Hayton.

Anna and her husband Simon Straus (#110) lived on a 40 acre farm. The income was not enough for the family so Simon went to work in St. Nazianz at the colony of the Salvatorian Fathers and just came home on the weekends.

Anna's children were two and a half years apart. Her smallest baby was 12½ lbs. After Philip was born, Anna and Simon sent his mother in Germany, a Picture of Elizabeth, Maggie, Katie, Rosie, and Philip. It's said that his mother died with that picture in her hand.

Anna's children Maggie, Katie, and Lizzie (Elizabeth) went to work in Evanston, Illinois when they got older. That's where Maggie met Frank Martin who lived in Waldo. He turned Catholic for Maggie and they were married in St. Nazianz. They moved to Ladysmith right after they were married.

The land in Aniwa belonged to Simon. It had a little log cabin on it. Elizabeth and Rosie lived there together with their husbands for a while. In the winter the men worked in the logging camps.

An example of how Anna helped her neighbors:

Frank Lax (pronounced Lux) had an infected arm. The doctors wanted to amputate but Anna thought she could save it. Throughout the night she covered it with warm cow manure. He was in much pain but toward morning he finally fell asleep so she knew she had conquered the fever. Later in the morning she noticed, by a finger, that the skin had broken and pus just ran out. She then applied Simons salve and it was healed. They wanted to build a little chapel to the Blessed Virgin in thanksgiving. One day when Anna was walking through the woods, she noticed a little lamb. She followed it, but it disappeared. Right where it disappeared they built the chapel. Every Fourth of July they have an open house there (Mass).

Notes for Otilie Strauss:

Otilie Strauss married Louie Luchterhand on October 24, 1921 in St. Nazianz, WI. They were married in the priest house as Louie belonged to the Ebenezer Reformed Church.

They lived on an eighty acre farm for seven years after they were married. It was at this time that they joined the Lutheran church in their area.

In October of 1928, they moved to Milwaukee, WI for a year. Louie did factory work while they lived there. Their son, Eugene, went to school there for one month when they moved back to the town of Chilton, WI. They moved to a different farm which they farmed for twenty one years. Then Louie had a rupture and couldn't lift heavy equipment anymore so he had to give up farming. They rented the land but continued to live in the house.

Louie went to Chilton to work at the Aluminum Specialty Plant. After four or five years, he sold the farm and moved to Chilton in November 1952. Tillie then went to work at this same plant and worked there for 24 years until she retired at the age of 75.

When they moved back to Chilton, Tillie joined the Catholic Church again. She also had the children rebaptized and they went to the Catholic school. Louie also joined several years before he died.

Louie had a heart attack around 1961. He was out of work for several months. He then worked for six years before he had a fatal attack right at work, January 20, 1967. He was 65 years old at this time.

Kenny was eleven and Allan was thirteen when they moved from the farm. Eugene, who was sixteen years old when Allan was born was twenty-nine when they moved.

Eugene went to work at the aluminum plant. He worked there for five years when he was laid off because they didn't have enough orders. He worked at Rod and Reel until they went Bankrupt. Then he started to work for the city where he worked for 22 years. He did everything--mow lawns, haul gravel, help blacktop roads, supervised a skating shanty, and drove a snow plow.

Allan worked for the city for 15 years. In 1962, they discovered he had diabetes. He was on pills first, then insulin. He always had to watch his diet. He had many health problems throughout his life.

When he was around six years old, he had rheumatic fever. Because of the high fever, it did some damage to his heart. He was not able to go to school that year. When he was eleven years old, he lost a kidney. There was some bleeding in the kidney which the doctor said was caused by a tumor so it had to be removed. While in the hospital, he also had his tonsils removed. He was at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Appleton for 39 days. Tillie stayed right at the hospital with him.

Because of Allan's diabetes, he had a running ulcer in his right leg. Finally his toe turned black and he had to have the leg amputated seven inches below the knee. Later the other foot broke down; the arch just exploded. The cold weather in Wisconsin did not agree with him so on August 10, 1988 he moved to Arizona.

Kenneth was in the army. He spent two years in service and two years in the reserves. He is deaf in one ear. While in training, a howitzer shell did not go off. He went over to check it and then it exploded causing his hearing loss. He spent 18 months in Germany as a mechanic for big trucks. He still works as a mechanic.

31. Margaretha Dumas, born August 03, 1824 in Austria; died August 10, 1918.

Notes for Johann Straka:

Johann Straka was a German Doctor. He never was licensed here in America. Anna was the only one of his children to help her dad so she was interested in healing and grew up following in his footsteps.

Johann made a salve with red lead. This is quite a dangerous ingredient. It was the last thing to be put in the salve and would explode if the rest of the ingredients were too hot. He also had a cancer wax made out of bee's wax and he used Franz Braun Wine to test for cancer. This was also good for healing sores. Many people came to him but he had to be careful because he was not a licensed doctor here in America.

Notes for Margaretha Dumas:

Margaretha Dumas was born in Austria. She was married to Johann Straka (#112) in Germany and they had several children when they came to America. They had a large family--probably thirteen--but some died young. Some were Ambrose, Joe, John, Theresa, Barbara, and Anna.

Theresa married Charles Nelson. Their children were Alice, Herb, Laura, Gilbert, and Marcella. Herb married Hildegard Strauss(#170). They were first cousins.

Margaretha Dumas and Johann Straka had another child named Anna who died. Three years later they had another girl who they also named Anna (#111). That seemed to be the custom at the time. When Anna got married the birth certificates got mixed up and she was thought to be nineteen years old when she was really only sixteen.
