Notes for Clara Ida Wallace:

Tuesday, 25 May 1886 - "Clark County Herald - County Records - Births", - "In Anderson, March 19, to Christina and Douglas Wallace, a daughter."

Sunday, 23 March 1913, Terre Haute was struck by a tornado(s). One of the recorded deaths was that of Mrs. Harley Davis.

Tuesday, 25 March 1913, - "Terre Haute Tribune - Page 1, Column 2", - "The tragic death of Mrs. Harley Davis, 2706 Thompson Street, is told by John Miller, 2720 Thompson Street, who aided Davis in saving the body from the flames of the burning house. Miller with his wife were thrown from their beds by the storm and escaped from their home which collapsed. Miller heard Davis calling for help and ran to the wreck of the Davis home. He found Mr. Davis fighting fire in a mattress which lay over the body of Mrs. Davis. Heavy concrete blocks from the fireplace held the body down and only the bleeding head was visible in the fire. Pans of water dipped from pools near the body were thrown on the flames and the only light for the rescue was put out. Davis and Miller used their hands in the dark to lift the wreckage from the body of the dead woman. Mr. Miller still wore bloody clothing Tuesday, worn on the night of the tornado, all other clothes being swept away in the storm.

While Mr. Davis and his neighbors were rescuing the body of his wife, Miller declares that they heard people singing religious songs and bits of prayers from the dark mass of wreckage west of the place."

Notes for Cynthia Ann Woods:

These articles appeared in the Clark County Herald. Those articles which are denoted by an * were taken from the "From Auburn" column of the newspaper.

Tuesday, 2 February 1886 - * "Mrs. Wallace, an aged lady, living south of Auburn died last Sunday."

Tuesday, 9 February 1886 - * "The report that Mrs. Wallace died last Sunday week is untrue. She was thought to be dead, but was not. She died last Wednesday."

Tuesday, 9 February 1886 - "Obituary" - "Died, at the residence in Anderson Township, February 2, 1886, of a complication of diseases, Cynthia A. Wallace, in her 87th year. Deceased was the consort of Joseph Wallace, who still survives her. She was born in Ohio, and after her marriage emigrated with her husband to Indiana, and from that state they moved to Clark County in 1852, and settled on the same farm where she died. Mr. Wallace is now in his 89th year, and he feels deeply the loss of his aged partner, with whom he had journeyed in sunshine and shade for sixty-two years. Mrs. Wallace bore six children whom she saw grow to maturity, only three of whom, however, - two sons, Archibald and Joseph C. Wallace, and one daughter, Mrs. Mary A. Tapscott - now survive her. She lived to have her children's, children's children 'rise up and call her blessed'. Her father was a soldier of the Black Hawk War. Mrs. Wallace joined the Presbyterian church in her seventeenth year, and remained a faithful member until a few years ago, when, no church of that faith being convenient, she united with the Baptist church, of which she remained a communicant until her death. She was conscious to the last, and frequently expressed her willingness to go meet her Savior. Many who know her will miss her kindly offices, and she is sincerely mourned by a large circle of relatives and friends."

Notes for Johanna Lichtenberger:

Johanna Lichtenberger, daughter of Christopher and Julia Lichtenberger, was born in Marion County, Ohio, January 29, 1834, and departed this life April 17, 1914, aged 80 years, 2 months and 19 days. She was married to John A. Koppler, August 18, 1853, and to this union eight children were born. The husband and two infants preceded the mother to that celestial city. She is survived by six children, one son, Christopher, five daughters, Mrs Hannah Morgan, and Mrs. Margaret Hart of Sullivan, Indiana, Mrs. Julia Meinecke of Willow Spring, Missouri, Mrs. Katy Gard and Mrs. Christena Thompson, 31 grandchildren, 36 great-grandchildren, one sister, and a host of other relatives and friends to mourn her death. About 20 years ago she joined the M. P. Church at the Ohio Chapel and has lived true Christian ever since. She has been a constant sufferer for the last 18 months, but she bore her sufferings without a murmur, death being a sweet relief to her. She was a dutiful wife, a loving mother and obliging neighbor. She always tried to relieve the needy that came to her door. The funeral services were held at the home Sunday by Reverend B. S. Billings, after which her body was laid to rest by the side of her husband to await the great resurrection morning.
